Hogwallow News.

Owing to the great distance the moon now is from the earth there can be no moonlight picnics for a while yet.

Everything points to a large crop of grasshoppers this year and every caution will be taken to keep them out of the corn fields.

Frisby Hancock's drove of geese are setting around the bank of the pond, but are afraid to venture in as the water is yet too cool.

The cedar trees on Musket Ridge are beginning to look green.

Yam Sims had his picture taken this week. There is quite a resemblance between Yam and the picture, and he appears very cool. He had his chin elevated so as to show off his new necktie.

A large rainbow formed in the sky over Musket Ridge Thursday and several of our citizens went over to view it. No valuables of any kind were found at the ends of it.

From present indications it appears that there will be sufficient amount of shade this summer to accommodate all, as the trees look as if they will be full of leaves.

Poke Easley was tried at Rye Straw yesterday for stealing somebody's cow over near Thunderation. He was fined six dollars and the cow was taken by the court to satisfy the fine.

A man one day in early summer drove down the road when a very hard wind came up. There was no shelter, excepting an apple tree, and under its spreading bows he stopped his wagon. The wind blew harder, and the branches swished and were disturbed as they never had before, and the man feared for his life. But wind grew less violent and slowly subsided, when the clouds floated away and the sun shone. Then the man drove away with his wagon bed full of fine apples, which the ill wind had blown him.

If the sun is two millions miles from Hogwallow, how long will it take its rays to wear out a window pane penetrating it ten hours per day? In making the calculation and average of one hour a day should be allowed for cloudy weather.

In Memorium.

John Moore spent his entire life of eighty years in Crittenden county, having been born here April 22, 1825, and died March 6, 1907. He was three times married and was the father of five children, three of whom are still living. His last marriage was to Miss Mary B. French, March 6, 1872 and with whom he lived thirty-five years to the day. She is left to mourn his loss.

He was a good citizen, neighbor, devoted husband and fond father. Bro. Moore, in 1878, professed religion and joined the Methodist church at Siloam and was a member the remainder of his life. The last ten years of his life he was in bad health and but little from home. For two years previous to his death he was a constant sufferer, but bore his sufferings with patience and never murmured at his lot.

His funeral services were conducted at his home by the writer, after which his remains were taken to Chapel Hill cemetery where they were laid to rest and await God's call.

May the peace of God, which passeth understanding, abide with the devoted and suffering widow, and His grace be sufficient for all the loved ones who remain here.

VIRGIL ELGIN.

The Richest Man in the World.

The richest man in the world can not have his kidneys replaced nor live without them, so it is important not to neglect these organs. If Foley's Kidney Cure is taken at the first sign of danger, the symptoms will disappear and your health will be restored, as it strengthens and builds up these organs as nothing else will. Oscar Bowman, Lebanon, Ky., writes: "I have used Foley's Kidney Cure and take great pleasure in stating it cured me permanently of kidney disease, which certainly would have cost me my life." J. H. Ordination Service.

According to previous arrangements the church at Baker met the fifth Sunday in March to ordain the following named deacons: T. W. Walker, P. H. O'Neal, G. H. King, Alvis Newcom. Pastor U. G. Hughes was assisted by Eld. E. B. Blackburn.

Ordination sermon by Eld. E. B. Blackburn.

Organization of presbytery, composed of Rev. E. B. Blackburn, Moderator Rev. U. G. Hughes, Deacons Jess Brown and W. H. Arfack, of Baker church, and F. S. Long, of Repton church. W. P. O'Neal was elected clerk.

Ordination prayer by U. G. Hughes and laying on of hands by presbytery.

Charge to the church by Rev. E. B. Blackburn.

Charge to the candidates by Rev. U. G. Hughes.

Extended the hand of fellowship.

At the close of the ordination service the Lord's Supper was administered. A large congregation was in attendance and everyone seemed to enjoy the services.

Proof of Merit

The proof of the merits of a plaster in the cures it effects, and voluntary testimonial of those who have used Alcock's Plasters during the past sixty years is unimpeachable evidence of their superiority and should convince the most skeptical. Self-praise is no recommendation, but certificates from those who have used them are.

Alcock's are the original and genuine porous plasters and have never been equaled by those who have sought to trade upon their reputation by making plasters with holes in them. Avoid substitutes as you would counterfeit money.

A MILITARY DESPOT.

The Experience of One Private in the German Army.

The following is the experience of a German army private:

During the second maneuvers I was sent on ahead to select quarters for my company. The police supply the names of householders who are expected to shelter the soldiery, and I had to decide on the number of men who should be assigned to each place.

It seems that our major dispatched a courier with a message for our captain. For some reason or other the message was not delivered. The next day the captain called me out and in the presence of the whole company rebuked me for not delivering the message.

"I did not receive any message," I ventured.

"Shut up your mouth, you liar!" he thundered. And again he bellowed, "Why didn't you deliver that message, you?"

I told him a second time that I had not received any message. The captain's temper broke all bounds. With an oath he rode his horse at me full tilt, hurling filthy names at me the while.

When he had ridden right up to me—I fully expected he would run me over, but I dared not move—he suddenly reined in his horse and, drawing a long dagger from his belt, shouted, "I have half a mind to stick this through your vile body, you Schweinhund!"

Once more he asked me about the message, and once more I answered, him.

"Then five days' confinement and bread and water be your punishment, you liar!" he retorted.

He repeated the question several times and increased my term of imprisonment each time I answered in the negative until my term of imprisonment equaled fourteen days. I was placed under arrest. Next day I was released.

I afterward found that the captain had discovered his mistake, but he never referred to it.—World Today.

BIRTH OF A "GASSER."

Noise of a Blowing Well Drowned All Other Sounds.

In the Broadway Magazine is a story by Rupert Hughes concerning the oil wells of Texas. He tells of the birth of a "gasser."

"It screamed like the death cry of a thousand panthers." He says: "The long steel cable has been sent flying like a twine string. A great length of pipe has been hurled against a tree and wrapped around it. The derrick was almost hidden in a white haze. A geyser of fine sand was streaming upward and eating away the lofty crown block."

"Seth knew what it was. He found Tom, and they gesticulated at each other. They made faces, but no audible sound. Their voices were vain as candles in the full sunlight. Each was trying to yell the same thing."

"She's a gasser, blowing her head off."

"Men gathered from everywhere and acted like crazy folk, working their jaws and delivering no message."

"They were soaked, drowned, obliterated in a sea of intolerable noise. A mile away at the railroad station the passengers were equally made dumb by the uproar. If a man wanted a ticket he had to write out the name of the station. An engine rolled in with a bell that rocked without sound and a whistle emitting puffs of white steam that no one heard."

"The animals of the region were greatly disturbed. There was much breaking of harness on the part of horses, and one or two galloped about under empty saddles. Their riders were doubtless stuck in the mud somewhere, head first."

"A few pigs wandering here and there had snuffed at the noise and returned to their luxurious wallows in the oily muck."

Pretty Crooked.

People who have seen cottonwood lumber warp when it came from the saw can appreciate a story about the first sawmill erected at Fort Scott. After the first day's sawing the owner of the mill came down from town, where he had been celebrating the "opening" with the boys. He looked over the crooked boards scattered about the yard for a moment and then inquired with drunken gravity:

"Boys! didd, has that lumber been measured yet?"

"It has not," replied the foreman of the mill.

"Well, when it gets still, take a (diced) corkscrew and measure it."

Essential to Biography.

Some years ago Norman Hapgood was arranging the data for his "Life of Lincoln." When he sat down to write the opening chapter, he was confronted with a puzzle. Hurrying to an adjoining room of the paper, on the staff of which he was a shining light, he asked the editor, "By the way, what was Lincoln's first name, Abram or Abraham?"

Avoiding Trouble.

"Those candidates are telling some terrible lies about one another."

"Yes. But you see, it would mean shooting on sight if they were to tell the truth about one another."—Houston Post.

Always After Us.

"No matter what we do, there is one class of people who will always be after us."

"Who are they?"

"Posterity."—Baltimore American.

We Trust Doctors

If you are suffering from impure blood, thin blood, debility, nervousness, exhaustion, you should begin at once with Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the Sarsaparilla you have known all your life. Your doctor knows it, too. Ask him about it.

You must look well after the condition of your liver and bowels. Unless there is daily action of the bowels, poisonous products are absorbed, causing headache, biliousness, nausea, dyspepsia, and thus preventing the Sarsaparilla from doing its best work. Ayer's Pills are liver pills. Act gently, all vegetable. The dose is only one pill at bedtime.

Ordination of Chas. T. Clarke.

On invitation of First Salem Baptist church an ordaining presbytery composed of Elders J. M. McFarland, T. C. Carter, W. R. Gibbs, R. A. LaRue and deacons J. R. Farris, J. A. Pierce and George Daniels from sister churches, met with them March 31st for the purpose of setting apart to the full work of the Gospel ministry. Licentiate Chas. T. Clarke. The presbytery was organized by electing Eld. J. M. McFarland Moderator and R. A. LaRue clerk. On request of Moderator Bro. Clarke related his Christian experience and call to the ministry, after which he was examined as to his belief of the fundamental doctrines of the Bible. His statements were satisfactory to the Presbytery and on motion of Bro. Carter his ordination was recommended. Song by the congregation, after which Bro. McFarland read 2 Cor. 5 and Bro. Gibbs led in prayer. The ordination sermon was preached by Bro. McFarland. Text 2 Cor. 5:20. "We Are Ambassadors for Christ, etc." The ordination prayer was led by Bro. Carter followed by laying on of hands by the presbytery.

Bro. Gibbs delivered the charge and presented the Bible to Bro. Clarke and Bro. LaRue gave the charge to church.

Bro. Clarke takes pastoral care of Cave Springs church followed with the prayers and sympathy of his brethren. May he, like Barnabas, be "full of the Holy Spirit and of faith," and through him may much people be added to the Lord.

Weighted 640 Pounds.

Appleton, Wis., March 26.—Elmore Sheppard, 17 years old, known throughout the land as "Big Eno," the Coon, the heaviest man in the United States, died here this morning of fatty degeneration of the heart. Eno weighed 640 pound and was gaining in weight at the rate of a pound a week. The body had to be removed from the house before being placed in a coffin, no door or window in the building being large enough to permit the burial casket being taken into the house.

Use Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup. Children like its pleasant taste. Contains no opiates, but drives the cold out through the bowels. Made in conformity to Pure Food and Drugs Law. Recommended and sold by J. H. Orme.

His Dear Old Mother

"My dear old mother, who is now eighty three years old thrives on Electric Bitters," writes W. B. Brunson, of Dublin, Ga. "She has taken them for about two years and enjoys an excellent appetite, feels strong and sleeps well." That's the way Electric Bitters affect the aged, and the same happy results follow in all cases of female weakness and general debility. Weak, puny children too, are greatly strengthened by them. Guaranteed also for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, by J. H. Orme druggist. 50 cents.

BLINDED BY SNEEZING

Peculiar Serious Affliction to Lady in Trenton, N. J.

New York, April 1.—Mrs. Joseph H. Jack, a resident of Trenton, N. J., is blind as a result of a violent attack of sneezing. Mrs. Jack was exhausted by the violent sneezing and fell asleep. When she awoke in the morning she was unable to see.

The physicians believe the violence of the sneezing caused hemorrhage of the blood vessels of the eyes.

Rheumatic sufferers can have a free sample of Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy with book on Rheumatism by simply writing Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. This book will explain how Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy successfully drives Rheumatism out of the blood. This remedy is not a relief only. It aims to clear the blood entirely of Rheumatic poisons, and then Rheumatism must die a natural death. Sold by Haynes & Taylor.

The News—No Pure Drug Cough Cure Laws would be needed, if all Cough Cures were like Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure is—and has been for 20 years. The National Law now requires that if any poisons enter into a cough mixture, it must be printed on the label or package.

For this reason mothers, and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's labels—and none in the medicine, else it must by law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop package with others and see. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Simply refuse to accept any other. Sold by Haynes & Taylor.

Diabolical Deed.

The infant son of W. J. Ray, of Kuttawa, was very badly burned Monday. Some child gave him a sack of powder and a match and told him to burn it and the little fellow stood over it and stuck the match to it. The powder flew all over his face and hands, but fortunately his eyes were not burned. A large boy who would do such a trick as that should be sent to the House of Reform, but authorities have not been able to get the culprit as yet. —Eddyville Herald.
